

Training Information

The single most effective element in any health and safety strategy is undoubtedly training. Pertinent, sensible health and safety training backed by firm management support is the key to getting employees to change the habits of a lifetime.

We will:

- Match the course to the delegates attending
- Mix the subject matter to be relevant to the job at hand
- Generate a course to suit your need if necessary
- Work at a time and day that is most suitable to the delegates
- Come to your premises, train on your ground if required
- Provide all the necessary training presentation materials
- Furnish delegates with comprehensive course notes
- Reward those who have attended with a certificate
